JCK

 JUNYA'S CRISPY KARAAGE

When Chef Junya Watanabe envisioned JCK, he didn't imagine a simple fried chicken concept. Instead, he sought to create the most toothsome chicken karaage on Earth for his guests. In fact, this dish, he came to find out, has long been his buried treasure, tucked beneath a slew of savory, award-winning ramens on his menu.

From the creator of Rakiraki, San Diego's No. 1 selling ramen for seven consecutive years, comes a remarkably crafted dish.

This labor of love is the result of 12 years of perfecting a single crispy recipe. Juicy, steaming chicken karaage served with a spiced-up rich Kewpie mayonnaise — a Japanese favorite — and delicate, housemade ponzu, crafted with beautifully fermented soy sauce and grain vinegar. The chicken is marinated for 48 hours in our organic fermented soy sauce and 12 delicious spices, including garlic and ginger, for a flavor pop.

With the most recent update in collaboration with his Michelin-starred mentor in Japan, who shares his passion for perfection, Watanabe's newest chicken karaage was born of hours spent in a small Tokyo kitchen, enhancing the already well-loved dish.

This recipe was born of hours spent in a small Tokyo kitchen with a Michelin-starred chef who shares his passion for perfection — who lent his personal secret for enhancing the already well-loved dish. With this final touch, it kisses perfection. For guests: an incredibly mouthwatering experience.
